Low Water Pressure – 2600s and 2700s area

September 10, 2025 – Iqaluit, Nunavut

The City of Iqaluit would like to inform residents in the 2600s and 2700s that we are currently experiencing low water pressure in these areas. City crews are aware of the issue and are working diligently to resolve it as quickly as possible.

We thank residents for their patience and understanding during this time.
